DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 15 April 2004 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 16, 30, and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

"said biasing element" lacks positive antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 12-13, 16, 24-28, 30-35, and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lo (US 5,617,785).

Lo discloses all the recited elements of the invention including:

- a) a first member including an uninterrupted planar die receiving surface (at 40) and a die retaining element associated with the die receiving surface (40), the die retaining element being configured to secure a planar surface of a substantially planar die (80) to the die receiving surface;
- b) a second member including an uninterrupted planar sheet supporting surface oriented to oppose the die receiving surface (at 90);
- c) handles associated with the first and second members so as to facilitate movement of at least one member of the first and second members toward the other of the first and second members (30, 120).

Regarding claims 13, 26, and 35, the element 40 is magnet. Regarding claims 24-25 and 33, the die receiving surface (at 40) is unbounded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lo (US 5,617,785) in view of Fink et al. (US 4,574,693).

Lo discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for mechanically securing the planar die. Fink discloses means for mechanically securing a planar die to a die receiving surface (76). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Lo to mechanically secure the planar die to the die receiving surface as taught by Fink as an alternative means for securing the die.

8. Claims 15, 29, and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lo (US 5,617,785) in view of Sabin (US 5,172,622).

Lo discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for a cushioning element. Sabin discloses a cushioning element (22). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a cushioning element as taught by Sabin on the device of Lo in order to minimize wear on an edge of the die.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 12-16 and 24-37 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
